

Since 1999

- Vision

- The Bashan Institute of Science is a non-profit research institute dedicated to advance in environmental science and technological applications of this science.

- Mission

- Creating new knowledge and novel cutting edge scientific advances.
- Development of new scientific ideas and concepts for advancement of mankind and enhancing quality of life.
- Creating new, and continuously changing, scientific solutions and new technologies in Environmental Microbiology.

- Commitments

- BIS is committed to a long-term, continuous evolvement as a scientific research organization.
- BIS is a self-sustaining organization.

- Relation with Auburn University

- BIS is academically-affiliated with Auburn University.
- Luz and Yoav Bashan are affiliated professors in the Dept. of Entomology and Plant Pathology at Auburn University.